

The Eight-Limbed Path of Yoga

The eight-limbed path of Yoga is shown in relationship to the Koshas and Bodies. This model is helpful in understanding the connection between various systems of Yoga. However, the path is truly non-linear, meaning that one can begin at any point from within and expand the practice to embrace other limbs.

